

Facilitators Working with Women Religious

In 2016, the Leadership Conference of Women Religious invited facilitators who work with institutes of women religious to attend its annual assembly. The list of facilitators to be invited was compiled by asking LCWR members to submit the names of facilitators with whom they were either currently working, with whom they had worked successfully, or with whom they planned to work soon.

The following are the names and contact information received.

By publishing this list, LCWR is not endorsing or promoting these facilitators, but rather is merely sharing the names provided by its members. Anyone seeking information about the type of work done by these individuals as well as references should contact the facilitators directly.
